GENERAL NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Have not Combined.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—The statement sent last night from Boston that an arrangement had been made for the union of the Chicago & Alton and the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroads, drew from President Blackstone, of the Chicago & Alton, the assertion that no such arrangements had ever been entered upon, and certainly none had been completed. The officials of the Atchison & Topeka road are also in ignorance of any such move. The officials here do not hesitate to assert that the rumor originated among stock jobbers, and to-day's work in Wall street seems to fortify that belief. The story was that the combination contemplated a joint line from the Rio Grande to the Pacific coast.

More Sympathy.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 8.—A mass meeting to consider the condition of Ireland and devise means to extend aid to the suffering peasantry of that country, was an immense affair and attended by citizens of all nationalities. The Irish turned out in great numbers and several of their civic societies were present in regalia and with music and banners. Peter L. Foy presided, assisted by about 300 vice presidents selected from among the most prominent influential citizens of the city, without respect to creed or nationality. The speakers were President Foy, Col. Don Morrison, Ex-Lieut. Gov. Charles P. Johnson, Father O'Reilly, Joseph Pulsfer, Col. A. A. [illegible], Wm. L. Darcy, J. H. MacAdam and Samuel Erskine. The political condition of Ireland was ignored by the speakers generally, special attention being paid to the suffering and want of the people and the hardships arising from the land laws and exactions of arbitrary landlords. Resolutions were submitted and unanimously adopted, declaring that the citizens of St. Louis extend to the suffering people of Ireland their heartfelt sympathy and commiseration, deploring the evils which afflict them, but more the causes which make these evils possible and periodical; holding that all legitimate governments should be of the people, by the people, for the people and deprecating and denouncing the violation of every principle of law which makes the government of Ireland a government of Englishmen, by Englishmen, for Englishmen; declaring that the first duty of a government is the protection of life, liberty and property, and grieving that many instances of English rule in Ireland seem to be a system of extirpation, oppression and robbery, holding as a fundamental principle and as popular rights that the land of every nation belongs to the people. The other resolutions are very strong in their expression of hostility to the land system in vogue in Ireland, and in sympathy with the tenants.

Gets another Trial.

[illegible], Ky., Dec. 8.—The special court of appeal for the trial of the case of Thomas [illegible] vs. Commonwealth this afternoon rendered an opinion reversing the decision of the lower court, L. D. Husbands offering dissenting opinion. John Feland presented the opinion of the court, which reverses the lower decision upon these grounds:

First—The lower court erred materially in overruling the motion for continuance by the appellant on account of the absence of a large number of witnesses at the July term of Owen county criminal court.

Second—The testimony of Dr. R. H. Gale and Dr. [illegible], as experts, was improperly excluded.

Third—The giving of certain instructions, especially requiring the jury to be satisfied from the evidence of the insanity of the accused before they could acquit, and that of requiring defendant to prove to the jury his insanity to their satisfaction.

Bayard on the Greenback.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—In connection with the memorial of business men of New York in favor of withdrawing the legal tender quality from greenbacks, the World publishes the following extract from a letter recently received from Senator Bayard:

"It is not hostility to the south that makes the north solid. It is an apprehension lest the unwise and dishonest administration of finances should [illegible] northern property and investments. No interest is so dangerous as the legal tender paper money, the redeemability of which may be endangered. I do not care half so much for party success in this connection, although I value it as highly as I do for the great service it would do this whole country for generations to succeed us."

Another Railroad Combination.

The Herald says, of the reported union of the two southwestern railroads: The accomplishment of the scheme will give to the people of this country a rival to the Union and Central Pacific and will, therefore, to a great extent, undo the results of the combination of the Vanderbilt and Gould clique in establishing through railway monopoly across the continent. The St. Louis and San Francisco Railway company have succeeded the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad company, which was organized under the act of congress approved July 27, 1866, granting them power to build roads from St. Louis to the Pacific coast. They surveyed a route through Missouri, Indian territory, New Mexico, Arizona and California, but built only to Vinita in Indian territory. The Southern Pacific Railroad, originally the southwest branch of the Pacific Railroad of Missouri, recently purchased by Jay Gould, was consolidated with the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Oct. 25, 1870. In 1875 default was made in interest, and after the sale by foreclosure the reorganized company took its present name. The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe company was originally organized in 1859, and reorganized in March, 1863. It extends from Atchison across the state and through part of Colorado and New Mexico to Albuquerque on the Rio Grande, within a short distance of where the surveyed route of the Atlantic & Pacific crosses that river. The branch of the latter road, which was formerly the Southern Pacific Railroad, runs from [illegible] to Kansas City. Both roads have direct connection east to the western termini of the Erie, Pennsylvania, and Baltimore & Ohio roads, the chief ones being the Chicago & Rock Island and Chicago & Alton roads, neither of which is likely to fall into the hands of the Vanderbilt-Gould clique. Both roads have large land grants from the general and state governments. After leaving the Rio Grande, the old surveyed route of the Atlantic & Pacific Railroad continues between the 35th and 36th degrees of latitude through Bernadillo, Valencia and Santa Ana counties, New Mexico, straight across Yavapai and Mohave counties, Arizona; thence down nearly one degree of latitude into San Bernardino county, Cal.; thence into Kern county, leaving which it takes an upward course parallel with the coast to San Francisco.

Still in Trouble.

AUGUSTA, Me., Dec. 8.—Petitions from various cities and towns in the state were presented to the governor and council to-day urging the necessity of investigating charges made by Chas. P. Rounds. The petitions are signed by numerous prominent republicans and are emphatic in an appeal for examination into charges alleging corruption and official malfeasance, and declare that the investigation prayed for should be accomplished before certificates are issued to senators and representatives elect.

They Want Grant

NEW YORK, Dec 9.—The mass meeting to excite public interest in the world's fair of 1883 has been postponed one month in the hope that Gen. Grant may then be able to attend.

New Bank.

KANSAS CITY, Dec 8.—The Merchants' national new bank commenced business here to-day. The organized capital is $1,000,000; paid up, $250,000.

Fire.

ST. LOUIS, Dec 8.—The mill of Samuel Hill & Bro., New Athens, was burned to-day. Loss on mill and machinery, $20,000; insured.

New Star.

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 8.—Harry Sargent's star, Adele Belgrade, made her debut here to-night. The house is packed and enthusiastic and success is deemed certain.

Mandamus.

[illegible], Me., Dec. 8.—Judge Virgin, upon agreement of the parties, has consented to conduct the hearing in the mandamus case against Secretary of State Gove, at the capital, Wednesday, [illegible]. The court will not finally adjourn here until this case is disposed of.

NEW BRUNSWICK.

Cut by Ice.

ST. JOHN'S, Dec. 9.—The ships Miramichi and Thule, which started from Chatham for sea on Nov. 25th, did not succeed in getting out, and were cut through by ice and filled.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The Utes in Congress.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The bill introduced to-day by Senator Teller to remove the Ute Indians from Colorado proposes to restore the Ute reservation to the public domain, and provides that the president shall with the consent of the senate, appoint a commission of five to select a reservation in some of the territories of the United States, and to remove the Ute Indians thereto, and to report to congress what compensation should be allowed said Indians on account of such removal. The bill also proposes an appropriation of $50,000 to defray expenses of removal.

The joint resolution introduced to-day by Senator Hill, of Colorado, on the same subject, proposes to authorize the secretary of the interior through a commission of five persons to be appointed by the president or by direct negotiation as he may deem best, to enter into an agreement with such of the Ute Indians as have not by acts of hostility against the United States, or otherwise forfeited their rights under the existing treaties, for the extinguishment of their title to their reservation, and to obtain their consent to removal and settlement in Indian territory or elsewhere. The joint resolution requires the secretary to report his proceedings under the foregoing authority to congress for its consideration and approval, and an appropriation of $100,000 is proposed to meet the expenses of the commission. Both of these measures were referred to the committee on Indian affairs.

Hill and the Utes.

Senator Hill says the bill introduced by him to-day providing for negotiations to effect the removal of the peaceful Utes from Colorado by their own consent, is drawn in accordance with the intentions of the administration and that he offers this proposition because he does not believe the more radical measures introduced by his colleagues have any chance of passage. He desires to labor for something he considers practicable of accomplishment.

Education for Colored Persons.

Bailey's bill, for the education of colored people, recites that $510,000 have been covered back into the treasury recently, being the bounty of colored soldiers unclaimed after seven years, and directs the secretary of the treasury to invest that amount in government 4 per cents, the interest to be apportioned to five institutions already in operation, where colored people receive education in the higher branches.

General News.

The Missouri delegation, this afternoon, adopted an appropriate resolution regarding the death of their colleague, A. M. Lay.

The house electoral law committee will report a bill for early action this session.

The senate committee will report for passage a resolution to amend the constitution and abolish the electoral college, making it a direct popular vote.

Representative Pound will introduce, at the earliest opportunity, a joint resolution proposing a constitutional amendment making the presidential term six years, with no second term, and congressional term three years.

The committee on coinage to-day authorized General Warner to report a resolution to the house calling upon the secretary of state for information as to what action had been taken, if any, to secure the co-operation of foreign countries in full remonetization of silver.

Chinese Consular Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Owen N. Denny, of Oregon, who was to-day nominated consul general at Shanghai, will replace Bailey, now recalled, who is the man against whom Col. Mosby made charges of illegal retention of fees, &c., in the letter recently published. Denny has been a consul in China for some time. It is very generally expected that Minister Seward's retirement by resignation will be the next announcement connected with Chinese consular and diplomatic affairs.

Waste Lands.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—A bill introduced to-day by Senator Hill, of Colorado, for the reclamation of arid and waste lands, possesses much interest for all states and territories west of the one hundredth meridian, where vast tracts of lands now lie idle or only scantily used for stock raising purposes. The bill directs the secretary of the interior to contract for five artesian wells—two in Colorado on plains east of the Rocky mountains and three at such other places as the secretary may designate in states or territories west of the Rocky mountains, and appropriates $50,000 for this purpose.

California Census.

The California delegation have had several conferences with Superintendent Walker in regard to the best manner of dividing California into the three census districts allotted to that state, and it is agreed that the division shall be substantially as follows: San Francisco and all the southern coast counties are to form one district, the remainder of Pacheco's congressional district and nearly all of Page's will form another, and Berry's district with the few high counties in convenient juxtaposition will constitute the third. The selection of the census supervisors for California remains yet to be determined. The positions pay only $500 each and involve much labor and responsibility. On account, however, of their patronage and political influence they are much sought after.

Senator Hoar's Labor Bill.

Senator Hoar introduced a bill in the senate to-day to establish a labor commission. It provides that the president with the consent of the senate, shall appoint a commission of five persons to inquire into and report as to the extent which machinery and labor-saving process have entered into the production and distribution of products in general consumption among people to the displacement of manual labor; also, whether any causes are in operation to bring about ownership and cultivation of lands in large tracts instead of small farms and homesteads; also as to the condition of persons and employment in agriculture, mechanical, manufacturing and mining labor in this country, and especially whether any causes are at work to change for the better or worse the condition of such persons, their hours of labor, the education of their children and proportion received by them of the profits of the occupations in which they are engaged. The commissioners are to hold office for two years, receive an annual salary of $5000 each, and be allowed expenses of travel, have authority to employ a secretary and three clerks and report to congress annually through the secretary of the interior.

Mexican Tariff

Strother, United States consul-general of Mexico, in a dispatch to the department of state, transmits the annual reports of the several consuls in western Mexico. They are chiefly filled with criticisms on the Mexican tariff, with apparently well founded complaints of its operations. Importations from the United States have seriously diminished, and smuggling largely increased and mining checked by the onerous exaction of the duties on supplies. There is universal complaint of the influence of the tariff on trade, notwithstanding that the importation of some articles from the United States have increased, especially of cotton prints, which were scarcely known in Mexico six years ago. Except for the enormities of recent tariff laws, mining would revive, and the production of gold, silver and coffee increase beyond precedent. The prices of flour, beef and pork are simply outrageous in Mexico, while in San Francisco, distant from La Paz only eight days, they are very low.

WEST INDIES.

Given a Chance.

HAVANA, Dec. 8.—The general commanding the department of Cinco Villas has issued a circular saying that considering the favorable condition of the province and that many [illegible] the term during which pardon will be granted to all insurgents who surrender has therefore been prolonged to Dec. 15th.

NOVA SCOTIA.

Watery Graves.

HALIFAX, Dec. 9.—Michael Wrayton of Emerald Isle, his daughter Cassie, his son Lovell, and a man named Jacob Sears, of Wood's Harbor, left Shag Harbor in a small shallop for Pubnico to attend church. The vessel foundered while entering Argyl sound. All were drowned.

The country aroun[illegible] Wes[illegible]n is filling up rapidly, or rather it looks as though it was already full.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.

The following bills were introduced:

By Cockrell—For certain improvements in the channel of the Missouri river, and an appropriation of $250,000 therefor; referred.

By Hill—Joint resolution authorizing the secretary of the interior to negotiate with the Indians for the relinquishment of their Colorado reservation and their removal to settlement elsewhere; referred.

Also a bill enabling Colorado to take lands in lieu of 16th and 36th sections found to be mineral lands.

By Teller—Providing for the removal of the Utes from Colorado; referred.

By Bailey—To educate the colored people.

By Teller—A resolution directing the secretary of the interior to transmit to the senate copies of all correspondence between himself and the Indian Commissioner and Agent N. C. Meeker since January, 1879, also copies of the correspondence with Hatch, Adams, Pollock, and the governor of Colorado regarding said Indians; also resolution that,

WHEREAS, The commissioner of Indian affairs in his report to the secretary of the interior for 1879, states that for their intrusion on the White River settlement, the Indians could easily find justification by pointing to the mining camps which have been located on their reservation in direct violation of treaty agreements; therefore,

Resolved, That the secretary of the interior be instructed to inform the senate what number of mining camps have been located on the Ute Indian reservation in Colorado, when and where they have been located, what efforts if any have been made to remove such camps or whether they are now in existence or were on Sept. 1, 1879, and that he transmit all correspondence concerning the subject; adopted.

By Voorhees, (of Ind.) resolution that,

WHEREAS, The restoration of silver money to the lawful currency of the country by act of Congress of Feb. 28, 1878, was demanded with singular unanimity by the American people and is now sustained by the public interest and the full force of intelligent public opinion, and

WHEREAS, By the act of May 31, 1878, the circulation of United States legal tender notes, commonly known as greenbacks, was fixed at the amount then in existence, to-wit: $346,000,000 and the secretary of the treasury was prohibited from reducing it below that amount by any process or upon any pretext whatever, and

WHEREAS, The aforesaid United States legal tender note or greenback circulation having been accepted by the government for custom duties, became at once and is now equal in value to gold and in certain transactions at a premium over both precious metals, and

WHEREAS, The financial measures forced upon the present administration and adopted by congress over its most strenuous opposition have restored confidence in the business world in the character, amount and stability of the money of this country, thereby creating a general revival of trade and of business prosperity, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the senate has heard with profound astonishment and deep regret the proposition of the president of the United States in his recent annual message, and of the secretary of the treasury to inaugurate a new and uncalled for financial agitation, with a view to the destruction of the most necessary currencies now in use in the hands of the people.

Resolved, That as the sense of the senate that such agitation is detrimental to the people of the United States, calculated to unsettle all values, confuse and disturb business, shake public and private confidence, and that it calls for immediate and unqualified condemnation.

Resolved, That the immediate interests of the country require free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver on conditions of exact equality and that it is part of a wise financial policy to maintain U. S. legal tender circulation commonly known as greenbacks, in volume not less than now exists, and to preserve its legal tender quality unrestricted as to amount and unimpaired in legal effect.

Ordered printed and laid on the table, to be called up by Voorhees.

By Hoar—A resolution instructing the committee on judiciary to inquire whether legislation is necessary to enable the Ponca Indians to prosecute in courts of the United States their claims for land under the treaties and statutes, and that the special committee, on the removal of the Northern Cheyennes, be instructed to ascertain and report the circumstances of the removal of the Ponca Indians from their reservation and whether they are entitled to be restored thereto; adopted.

A message was received from the house announcing the adjournment of that body on account of the death of A. M. Lay, of Missouri, and that it had passed a concurrent resolution appointing a committee of representatives and senators to arrange for the funeral and accompany the remains to his late home.

The senate concurred in this resolution and Vest, Kirkwood and Walker were appointed members of the committee.

On motion of Vest, as a further mark of respect, the senate adjourned until to-morrow.

RAILROAD STATISTICS.

Showing the Growth of the Country, Particularly the West—The Great Trunk Lines and their Business—Changing and Making Trade Centers, Etc.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Joseph Kimmok, chief of the bureau of statistics, has just sent to the printer a report on the international commerce of the United States, in the preparation of which he has been engaged for more than a year. This report embodies the results of close investigation of commercial and transportation affairs in various parts of the country. The following is a synopsis:

The growth of traffic on railroads is indicated by the fact that the total freight movements of three of the most important trunk lines connecting the west with the seaboard increased from 10,898,969 tons in 1868 to 25,272,755 in 1878. The average cost of transportation on the ton on the principal lines of the country fell from 2.3 cents per ton per mile in 1868 to 65-100 cents per mile in 1878. Seven-eighths of the surplus productions of the trans Mississippi states north of the state of Arkansas now cross the Mississippi on railroads at and between St. Louis and St. Paul, and are transported directly east to markets in the country and in foreign countries. During the year 1878, the estimated shipments from St. Louis by rail exceeded the southern shipments from that city by way of the Mississippi river. The four principal east and west trunk lines leading from the Atlantic seaboard, with their western connections to Chicago, St. Louis, Louisville and Cincinnati now constitute the most important avenues of commerce in this country, and the trade currents which pass over them largely influence the course of our internal commerce as well as the course of our foreign trade with respect to the ports at which foreign goods are imported and domestic products are exported. This great east and west current of trade has led to a radical change in the course of the trade of the states situated south of the Ohio river and south of the state of Missouri. The cities of St. Louis, Louisville and Cincinnati now control at least two-thirds of the trade of those states in general merchandise, and have therefore become their chief commercial entrepot. In competition for the trade of the states referred to the three interior cities possess an important advantage in their rapidly developing manufacturing industries, the value of the products of which during the year 1878 is estimated at $415,000,000, or nearly as much as the total value of imports into the United States from foreign countries. The construction of competing lines between all important cities of the country led to a fierce struggle for traffic. For several years wars of rates appeared to constitute the normal relation of railroads to each other with respect to competitive traffic. During the contest rates fell below the actual cost of transportation, and at last pooling or apportionment of traffic or of proceeds from the traffic, was resorted to. This plan has been widely adopted and it now constitutes one of the most important features of the American railroad system. Experience in the administration of such pools may, in obedience to popular demand, lead to the correction of many causes of complaint.

As a result of the facilities which have been provided for by direct shipments the railroad system now presents to the commercial interests of the country with respect to a large part of our internal commerce as a single organ, the tendency being constantly towards that almost perfect system of transmission of the postal service. The general tendency of the combinations for carrying on direct trade has been toward the reduction of transportation charges and has exerted a very important influence upon the agricultural, manufacturing and mining industries of the country. In certain states and sections these interests have been adversely affected but the general result has been a large development of the industries and resources of the country. It is impossible to state accurately the total value of the internal commerce of the country, measured by the value of commodities transported. It is many times greater than our foreign commerce. The value of commodities transported on the Pennsylvania railroad alone, between Philadelphia and Pittsburg, during a single year has exceeded the value of imports into the United States from foreign countries during the last ten years. The subject of governmental regulation of railroads has been agitated in various parts of the country and in several of the states railroad commissions have been formed. In view of the fact that the railroad system of the country has become essentially a unity in all that relates to commerce among the states and that by far the largest part of our internal commerce is inter-state commerce, it has been urged that the government of the United States should exercise its authority for the correction of the evils and abuses under the constitutional power of congress to regulate commerce among states. A bill having this object in view has passed the house of representatives. The practical question which presents itself is whether [illegible] shall be controlled solely by those who are [illegible], or whether [illegible] shall be assisted by some intelligent and authoritative agency. The constitution of such an agency, the scope of its powers and the manner in which the powers shall be exercised in harmony with the spirit of our institutions constitutes a difficult and complex question, and one which can be determined only in the light of such information as may be obtained through intelligent and careful investigation of the whole subject under authority of congress.

A large number of "Southern democrats" are quoted as favoring General Grant's candidacy for a third term, but nearly all of them request to have their names withheld. Those who allow their names to be given are undoubtedly most estimable persons in their respective localities, but the American public has now the rare pleasure of resting its eyes upon their names for the first time.

THE PACIFIC COAST.

CALIFORNIA.

Made an Assignment

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8.—Fleischman, Sichel & Co., hardware merchants, Battery street, have made an assignment.

A Big Scheme.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8.—Negotiations are on foot for the purchase of all the Texas Pacific Railroad Company's lands in Texas by the Anglo-American Land Association, a financially powerful organization, controlled principally in Edinburgh. The proposition is to contract to pay for the whole body of lands at a minimum price of fifty cents per acre, within 15 years, as fast as this association colonizes them, and to make immediate cash payment of say $1,000,000 in advance of colonization.

NEVADA.

A Development.

VIRGINIA, Dec. 8.—A drift 10 degrees south of the east 2400-foot level of Union has reached east clay. It shows over 80 feet of good ore in the east wall, and stands just about the same as it did near the Sierra Nevada station incline—nearly perpendicular, but pitching slightly to the east. The mine has been visited by several experts and mining men—Hayward among others—and all pronounce it as showing better than was expected.

CHINA AND JAPAN.

Discontented.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8.—The steamer City of Tokio arrived to-day from China and Japan. Hongkong advices say a marked discontent exists among American residents at the unsettled condition of the United States representation there.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

The Champion.

PORT TOWNSEND, Dec. 9.—Captain Delgardno has just returned from Port Angelos and reports the schooner Champion safe. She intended making the trip to Quillihute with the passenger, Miss Smith, who had previously broken her collar bone while horseback riding at Neah Bay, and was on her way home but Captain McAlmond was forced to put back to Clallam through rough weather. The Champion left yesterday for Neah Bay.

Weather.

J. G. Swan, meteorological observer at Neah Bay, makes the following report for November:

Highest barometer—30.9 1-16.
Lowest barometer—29.23 1-13.
Mean barometer—30.
Highest temperature—54.
Lowest temperature—30.
Mean temperature—43.
Prevailing winds southwest and southeast.
Rainfall during the month, 8.78 inches, against 19.91 inches last year.

Month has been mild. No high winds. From 10th to 16th breakers in the bay were heavy owing to northwest gales off shore. From 16th to 30th smooth.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Severe Weather.

LONDON, Dec. 9.—The severe weather continues in Great Britain and on the continent. Heavy snow falls are reported throughout Germany, Austria and Switzerland, and from Paris, Madrid, Brussels, Florence, Bologna, Milan, Genoa, Venice, Verona and Rome. At Nantes the River Levere is frozen. The municipality of Paris has voted 500,000 francs for the relief of the poor.

Will not Change.

VIENNA, Dec. 8.—A committee of the upper house of the reichsrath adopted a resolution in favor of restoring the army bill, which was amended by the lower house, to its original form.

The New Ministry.

MADRID, Dec. 8.—Senor Herrera has failed to form a new ministry, and the king has requested Senor Canovas del Castillo to undertake the task.

The king had long conferences with various ministers yesterday, and consulted the leaders of the monarchical parties to-day. The result was that King Alfonso has enlisted Posada Herrera, president of the congress, with the formation of a new cabinet. Herrera is now conferring with the various party leaders.

Out on Bail.

CASTLEBAR, Dec. 8.—After the evidence of the shorthand writer and police witnesses had been concluded, Brennan was committed for trial, and bail was accepted for his appearance to answer. After his release Brennan addressed a crowd from the window of his hotel. He announced that whatever he had said at Balla he was prepared to say again. His words were loudly cheered.

The Czarina.

BERLIN, Dec. 8.—It is reported in Russian circles here that the condition of the czarina has greatly improved.

Cattle Plague.

The cattle plague has broken out on the island of Cyprus.

Suspended.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—C. T. Getting & Co., merchants of London, Buenos Ayres and Montevideo, have suspended.

Sale of Silver.

A Berlin correspondent announces that the German government will immediately resume sales of its surplus silver.

Peaceably.

VIENNA, Dec. 8.—According to the advices sent by Muktar Pasha to the porte he is confident of being able to fulfill his mission peaceably.

Communists.

PARIS, Dec. 8.—A dispatch reports that a note has been drawn up by a committee of non amnestied communists on the amnesty bill, saying that there are flaws in Leroyer's recent report, and charging that the government is granting amnesty to the authors of the Bonapartist pamphlet, with whom communists disclaimed any allegiance.

The New Policy.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—A Vienna correspondent states that advices have been received from St. Petersburg that a full meeting of the imperial council will be held to-day to examine into the internal situation in Russia and determine upon a policy to be adopted. It is believed the decision will be of moment as importance for Russia and the whole of Europe.

Asiatic News.

MANCHESTER, Dec. 8.—A London correspondent writes that the Kashgar revolt has ended by the final and complete defeat of Hakim Kahn, of Tura, with a loss of one thousand killed. Hakim Kahn besieged Tashkourgan with 5000 men, the Chinese garrison numbering only 2,000, but all of Hakim Kahn's Kirghis force deserted leaving him with only 1600 Sarts. Hakim Kahn retired with these into the country of the Kirghis who had deserted his command, which he ravaged and then started for the Russian territory laden with booty. The Chinese from Tashkurgan overtook Hakim Kahn on the 21st ult.

War in Africa.

CAIRO, Dec. 8.—Information is from Massowah represents that King John is marching forward with the main body of the Abyssinian army and forty guns. It is said he is determined to occupy the districts of Sennaar and [illegible] in the Blue Nile territory. He declares that European intervention will not prevent him enforcing his just claims, including an indemnity for past Egyptian wrongs.

A Gunpowder Plot.

BERLIN, Dec. 8.—Close to Odessa railway station, three mines filled with gunpowder and nitro-glycerine have been discovered.

An Understanding.

ROME, Dec. 8.—Fanfulla has reason to believe that an understanding on the Greek frontier and [illegible] questions has been arrived at between the governments at Berlin and Vienna and Rome.

Rewards.

LONDON, Dec. 9.—Queen Victoria to-day at Windsor Castle received officers and men who distinguished themselves in the Zulu war, and conferred the Victoria Cross and other decorations on one corporal and three privates. [illegible], Newdigate, Crealock, Preston and other South African commanders attended the ceremony.

Brennan Again.

CASTLEBAR, Dec. 9.—Thomas Brennan, the agitator, was conducted to the court to-day under a small escort and was cheered by a large crowd on the way. Lepper N. French, counsel for the crown, said the government is endeavoring to save tenant farmers in Ireland from a body of men, the vast majority of whom are agitating purely for self-aggrandizement and popularity. French defined the legal meaning of sedition and then read Brennan's speech to show it is within its definition.

Bishops' Stipends.

PARIS, Dec. 8.—The senate restored the original figures of the estimate for stipends of bishops which the chamber of deputies rejected.

Will Retire.

The Temps states that, notwithstanding the urgent advice of his friends to remain in office, Leroyer, minister of Justice, is determined to resign from the cabinet on account of ill health.

USE OF THE FOOT OF STREETS.

PORTLAND, Dec. 8, 1879.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

I venture to assume that a few words from an humble citizen of East Portland, upon a question lately agitated in the columns of THE OREGONIAN, may not weary the patience of your readers. I refer to the action of the circuit court in the matter of opening of the foot of Oak street to public use.

The founders of Portland, with a wise liberality, dedicated all of the city front east of Front street, to be used as a public levee. However, through a legal technicality, the courts subsequently avoided the grant, and the blocks upon the river were diverted to private purposes. But there was left to the public the use of the streets and thoroughfares leading to the water's edge. At this stage of affairs the owners of the fractional river blocks had ample room both to build their wharves and to retain passage ways to the same over their own property, which would have allowed free ingress and egress and would have left the streets unobstructed. Their greed of gain, however, induced them to make use of every foot of available property, by the erection of buildings thereon, trusting that through the laxity of the times they might appropriate the streets of the city to their private use. The result of this course is to-day plainly apparent. There is scarcely a street in Portland that leads uninterruptedly to the river. Take, for example, the south half of Oak street, the one in question. It is used as a woodyard. Hundreds of cords of wood are piled upon it. This confiscation of the streets is, without doubt, a valuable acquisition to the unlicensed appropriators of public property, but it works a corresponding hardship upon many seeking access to your city. Steamers cannot land at any street when occasion demands it. Small boats have no landing place, and fire engines can get to the river only at certain points.

And further, Portland cannot afford to indulge in any such selfish exclusiveness, deaf to the reasonable demands of so considerable a trade as flows from this side of the Willamette and country adjacent thereto.

Outside of the fact that there are but one or two streets in the city by which the public can reach the river, or at the foot of which boats can land without paying toll to the owners of wharves who have appropriated the foot of the streets for their erection, the rapidly increasing trade and travel between the east and west side makes it imperative that more commodious means of crossing be provided than can be furnished by the one boat plying between the foot of Stark and L streets.

It is impossible, from the nature of things, to run more than one boat between those two points; and the only means by which the public can be accommodated, and the frequent jam of teams waiting for the boat on each side of the river (which are the cause of such frequent complaint) be avoided, is by opening more streets for ferry landings and requiring the ferry company, under the conditions of the charter granted them by the territorial legislature, to put on a sufficient number of boats at all times to answer the requirements of the constantly increasing travel. And a commodious and easy passage to and from these boat landings should be a matter of municipal pride. I sincerely trust that the more reflective and public-spirited of your citizens will, upon deliberation, use their influence as a barrier to the further advancement of the selfish policy which has hitherto obtained.

LEVI KNOTT.

DEMOCRATIC BLUNDERING.

(From the Chicago Times.)

A very much disgusted southern politician, who plainly has more sense than the average southern politician, notwithstanding he was a member of the forty-fifth congress, has written a long epistle on the collapse of his party in Ohio, in which he pathetically inquires whether there is ever to be an end of democratic party blundering. He inclines to the opinion that there is not. The inherent idiocy of its managers, he says, renders it a party from which the south can hope for no good, "and to follow its fortunes will only result in our sinking still further into the mire of dismal failure." He would therefore be glad to see the old graveyard concern disband, and, as individual electors, "unite with the republican party in the unanimous selection of some head of the government who would give the country a rest from the howl of 'actions!'"

There is a great deal of political wisdom in the suggestion that the wisest course the old graveyard party organization could pursue would be to disband its organization, step down and out, and as a party cease to be. No surer or speedier way to break the present government party in twain and cast out of power the worser part of it could be proposed. At present it is a combination supported in power by northern dread of its rival. The old graveyard party is useful only as a prop to uphold the opposite combination. Take away the prop, and the thing it upholds would fall to pieces speedily.

The fact was perceived in 1872 by many sagacious men who proposed the so-called "passive policy." The proponents did not contemplate the disbandment of the party organization, but only its abstention from any party action in the presidency contest of that year. They were accordingly suspected of having some ulterior sinister design; a suspicion which suggested "possum policy" as a more appropriate name for the game of deceit that was intended. But the officious managers of the machine would not suffer even the passive policy to be carried out. They proceeded to blunder, of course, by calling a party nominating convention, and to crown the apex of party stupidity and stultification by nominating a grotesque absurdity. Had they abstained from any action whatever, as the passive policy implied, the outcome could not have been worse, and in all probability would have been a good deal better.

The prospect that the old graveyard party will overcome its adversary by keeping its organization intact is about as poor now as it was in 1872. But if its organization were wholly abolished, having only its present adversary in the political field, that party would begin to break in pieces, and new parties to form around new political questions. If the last [illegible] of statesmen was not dragged forth from its miserable grave to serve the nations of [illegible] and pro-slavery doctrinaires, the [illegible] would no more appear.

It would be vain, however, to expect the average party machine politician to acquiesce in such a project, for two reasons: First, his occupation of party truncheon-flourisher would be suspended. Second, his political greatness would disappear.

"Little Mac's" Opportunity.

(From the Cincinnati Enquirer, Dem.)

Democratic New Jersey, by hooking on Connecticut, could take the place of Indiana in a presidential election, and with New York and the "solid south" elect a democratic president. Does anybody see in this the shadow of George B. McClellan? If Little Mac appreciates this situation he will step over into Philadelphia and get the benefit of a demonstration. The Quaker City is always reliable when it is desirable to give McClellan a hoo-doo.

In Better Taste.

(From the Milwaukee Sentinel, Rep.)

It is reported from Georgia that, if Grant is nominated, the more conservative and patriotic men of the south would at once organize a Grant party and support him vigorously. It would be in better taste for those "conservative and patriotic" southern gentlemen to make it not quite so much of a personal matter, but organize republican clubs and "vigorously support" any good man who may secure the nomination.

THE NATIONAL CONVENTION.

The republican national committee, having been called to meet on the 17th inst. to elect a chairman and to name the time and place for holding the national convention in 1880 a considerable number of cities are putting in their respective claims as points at which the convention ought to be held. Among the prominent points mentioned are Chicago, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Philadelphia and New York. There are other cities which are candidates, but the choice will probably fall on one of those named, the chances being rather in favor of Chicago. It is really a matter of very little importance, politically or otherwise, in what particular city a convention is held. But two considerations are usually given some weight in determining the question. It is important, in the first place, that a city should have ample hotel accommodations and be possessed of a hall or building of sufficient size in which to assemble the delegates. In the second place the city should be conveniently accessible to the delegates by the best means of travel from all parts of the country. Other points worthy attention are the moral effect which a particular place would have in determining the choice of a candidate, or in arousing the enthusiasm of the party in the state in which it is held. It is claimed by an Indianapolis paper that the last named consideration should be allowed to turn the scale in favor of that city for the convention next year. As against the claims of Cincinnati and Chicago, Indiana republicans allege that in addition to having all the advantages offered by the other two places, so far as the west is concerned, a convention has never yet been held there, while both Cincinnati and Chicago have both been honored in that way. The Chicagoans claim the convention on the ground that theirs is the only city which can furnish the needed accommodations, and the Cincinnatians are reminded, in very plain terms, of their failure to furnish a suitable place for the meeting in 1876.

The republican party was organized at Pittsburg in 1856, and the 17th of June of that year its first national convention was held in Philadelphia, when Fremont and Dayton were nominated; other conventions followed thus: Chicago, May 16, 1860, Lincoln and Hamlin; Baltimore, June 7, 1864 Lincoln and Johnson; Chicago, 1868, Grant and Colfax; Philadelphia, June 5, 1872, Grant and Wilson, and Cincinnati, June, 1876, Hayes and Wheeler. It will thus be seen that the conventions have been held alternately in the east and west, and if this rule is to be followed the east would have the next convention; but as the alternation is believed to have been entirely accidental, and as Pennsylvania does not need the moral effect which a convention would have, and New York would not feel it, the way is considered open for a western city, and Indianapolis has the second best chance.

TARIFF ON SUGARS.

It is said that a bill will be presented to congress at its present session, to thoroughly revise the tariff. As sugar constitutes about the largest item of our imports, it would be well, if the duty upon it is to be continued, to so amend the present law that it would leave less room for evasion and fraud than there is as it now stands. For nearly forty years prior to 1846, there were but two classes of sugar recognized in the tariff law, viz: raw and refined. From 1846 to 1861, the tariff was advalorem. In 1861 the specific duty was resumed and the Dutch standard of color was employed to distinguish between the different grades which were only three, representing, first, sugars fit only for refining, second, raw sugar fit for consumption called grocery sugars, and third refined sugars. In 1862 the grocery sugars were divided into two grades, making four in all, and as thus amended the tariff remained until 1870, when the law was again amended so that refining sugars were subdivided into four classes besides melado and another division of grocery sugars was made. Thus the law stands at present as to the division, though an additional duty of 25 per cent. on the former rates was imposed in 1875. "The distinctions in the law says America, are unnatural and arbitrary, and importing merchants discovered that the subdivision among refining sugars opened a wide door for dishonest practices by collusion between unscrupulous persons in the trade and the government samplers, a class of poorly paid officials who practically determine the duties, and who, with very little danger of detection, were able to misrepresent the true character of the cargo, by means of which not only was the government defrauded of large sums, but the business of honest and legitimate importers was being destroyed."

What is wanted in all tariff legislation is a law simple and economical and which gives the greatest possible advantages, first, to the large class of consumers and, second, to the smaller classes of importers and home manufacturers. The same authority quoted above suggests that there still remain the three natural divisions into which sugar is classified. The first sugars fit only for refining purposes, says not above 13 by the Dutch standard of color; second, what are known as grocery sugars, that is raw sugars fit for consumption; and third, refined or white sugars. If tariff laws are to be retained, it would be well if this division could be followed, as they are the only natural and easily defined classes and the only ones that should be recognized in framing a tariff. Such a tariff would be simple and economical in administration, dispensing with the small army of chemists and spies requisite in any graded tariff, and would insure the prompt and honest collection of revenue, and relieve the merchant from the embarrassment growing out of the much graded system, enabling him to purchase his sugars in any part of the world with positive knowledge of the duty to be paid on their landing, by which he will be able accurately to compute their cost.

The official vote for governor in Massachusetts was 243,642, as against 256,236 cast in 1878, showing a falling off of 12,593 votes. Long received 122 751 this year and Talbot 134,725 last year, showing that the decrease in the aggregate was chargeable to the republicans, owing either to apathy or Talbot's greater popularity than Long's. On the other hand Butler is credited with 109,149 votes, or 286 more than he had last year, showing how well he kept his forces in hand although he had no considerable number of reinforcements by desertion from the republican camp. The loss of votes on the regular democratic ticket was less by only 113 than Butler's increase, Adams, in 1879, polling 9,989 as against 10,162 cast for Abbott in 1878. The prohibition vote fell off from 1913 to 1645. Talbot's plurality was 25,290, while Long's is only 13,612; and Talbot's majority over all was 13,215, while Long's is only 1860. The people of the old Bay State will probably have to defeat the great self-nominator a little worse before his gubernatorial aspirations are thoroughly squelched.

The annual report of the commissioner of internal revenue predicts that receipts from internal revenue taxes will, during the present fiscal year, reach $115 000,000. During the last three years 3117 illicit distilleries have been seized. In order to provide ample force to suppress illicit distilling, Gen. Raum recommends the appropriation of $100,000 as a deficiency, to be used during the present fiscal year. During the year ending June 30, 1879, $113,449,621 of internal revenue taxes were collected and paid into the treasury. The receipts from distilled spirits for the year 1879, as compared with the year 1878, shows an increase of $2,119,468. As compared with 1878, the increased production of spirits during the fiscal year 1879 was 15,789,968 gallons. The increase of production of manufactured tobacco the last fiscal year was 12,026,621 pounds, of number of cigars and cigarettes, 394,177,719. The report is very voluminous, and contains a large number of tabulated statements. During the last three years 6,983 persons have been arrested for illicit distilling, and 27 officers and employes killed and 48 wounded while engaged in enforcing internal revenue laws. Accompanying the report is a detailed statement, showing the amount collected in each district, from which it appears that the largest amount was collected in the 1st Ohio district, $10,532,458. The 1st Illinois contributed $8,250,948, and the 5th Illinois $6,960,170. The smallest amount—$4020—was collected in the 3d Texas district.

Gen. Francis Walker, superintendent of the census, in his annual report says that the census law enacted at the last regular session of congress is found to be thoroughly satisfactory in its practical working, and he recommends only two more changes, viz., that the franking privilege be extended to communications addressed to the census office, and that inquiry relating to holders of public debt be omitted from the population schedule as useless and aggravating. The superintendent, in concluding his report, raises the question whether, as heretofore, a copy of the returns should be made. The least cost of such copy would be $130,000. The only use of a copy would be in case of accidental destruction of the original schedules, and the expenditure, if made, would be simply a form of insurance. Whether so large an expenditure would be justified by its object the superintendent submits to the decision of the department.

When charges are made against an official or the conduct of a public institution, if the public cannot have the opportunity of making the examination themselves to ascertain the truth or falsity of the charges some evidence that the author of them occupies a position of reliability among those who know him must be shown before general credence will be given to his accusations. Hence, James Clark who denounces the management of the penitentiary ought to have furnished this requisite evidence in order that the people of Oregon who are interested in the matter, may know what amount of credence to put in the statements which he makes. Mr. Clark may be well known in his neighborhood, wherever that may be, but who or what he is, the people of the state at large have no knowledge. Since our reference to his article in the Mercury of last week, we have had several inquiries on this point.

Tilden, if reports be true, is about to put the head in his barrel and roll it back into his vault, "give up the game before the die is cast" and retire from the business of running for the presidency. But as he withdraws from the presidency he trots our Speaker Randall all nicely groomed and well kept as a worthy successor. About the only way in which Tilden could elect Randall would be to get on the opposing ticket himself. Tilden is about the only man in this country who is talked of for the presidency that Randall could beat.

This is the deliberate opinion of the Louisville Courier-Journal: "The south is not for Grant, or an empire, or a third term, though there are elements at the south thus minded. But if the chuckle-headed democratic leaders at Washington continue the gait they have been going, they will break themselves and their party down, indirectly making Grant's way for him, and the south once divided, the existing democratic fabric will go to pieces. That is all there is in it."

Park Benjamin, who has a tender regard for murderers, says that an electric spark strong enough to kill any usual number of men who may be hanged at once can be developed from an apparatus the size of an ordinary trunk, without danger to anyone (except, of course, the criminals), and without defacement of the bodies, while effecting an instantaneous and painless death.

Chicago Tribune: "One of Chicago's ex-prominent society belles, who married an alleged German nobleman last year, writes to her father from New York that business with the count is fair, although the close of the hair-cutting season necessarily causes a decrease of revenue."

DIED.

In this city, on the 9th inst., Jeremiah McGraw, aged 75 years, native of Ireland.

Funeral will take place on the 11th, a. 9 o'clock, from the cathedral.

Died in Dansville, N.Y., Nov. 22, the Rev. Geo. T. Kay, rector of the Church of the Ascension, Cove, Union county, Oregon.

SPOOL COTTON.
ESTABLISHED 1812.

CLARK'S
TRADE
MARK
SPOOL COTTON.

GEORGE A. CLARK,
SOLE AGENT.

The distinctive features of this spool cotton are that it is made from the very finest

SEA ISLAND COTTON.

It is finished soft as the cotton from which it is made; it has no waxing or artificial finish to deceive the eyes; it is the strongest, smoothest and most elastic sewing thread in the market; for machine sewing it has no equal; it is wound on

WHITE SPOOLS.

The Black is the most perfect

JET BLACK

Ever produced in spool cotton, being dyed by a system patented by ourselves. The colors are dyed by the

NEW ANILINE PROCESS,

Rendering them so perfect and brilliant that dressmakers everywhere use them instead of sewing silks.

We invite comparison and respectfully ask ladies to give it a fair trial and convince themselves of its superiority over all others.

To be had at all firstclass dealers in dry goods and notions. feo10daw1m

WEDNESDAY MORNING DEC 10 1879

CITY

A SHOOTING SCRAPE—Quite an exciting shooting affray occurred yesterday afternoon at about 3.30 in a store near Alder and Second streets. The principal actors were a couple of Chinamen named respectively [illegible] and Ping Cheng. It seems that [illegible] was indebted to Ping Cheng in the [illegible] approached Quang while he was at work in the store and demanded his money. Quang refused to pay [illegible] which led to a fight and [illegible]. During the war of words [illegible] from his pocket a pistol and [illegible]. The report created great excitement among the celestial denizens who [illegible] the scene in large numbers [illegible] set upon by [illegible] countrymen who [illegible] toward the city jail. Before proceeding far Chief Lappeus met the crowd and [illegible] the prisoner to the jail. Quang [illegible] he would be assassinated [illegible]. So great was his excitement that he did not know that he had been shot. However, on making an examination at the jail it was ascertained that the pistol shot had taken effect in Quang's left leg, near the hip [illegible] somewhat painful flesh wound. Dr. Jones was called and extracted the bullet and dressed the wound. The injuries are not regarded as dangerous. Ling Cheng is [illegible] to a charge of assault with intent to kill. He will have a preliminary hearing to-day in the police court.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH FAIR.—The fair given by the ladies of the Congregational church was well attended last night. The basement of the church was tastefully decorated. Hundreds of really handsome toilet articles placed temptingly about the room were well arranged and heavily laden [illegible] tables the inviting lunch table [illegible] the well dressed crowd and the bright eyed neatly clad attendants each wearing a white Normandy cap made a handsome [illegible] scene. Some pebbles painted with Oregon scenery—the artistic work of Mrs Hurgren—met with ready sale. Lunch this evening, at [illegible] New England dinner will be served from 7.30 to 9.30 in the parlor which is being specially prepared for it. The dinner will close with a grand tableau.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Mrs George A. Young, wife of one of the proprietors of the Occidental Hotel, met with a severe accident yesterday morning. About the center of the hotel there is a small court roofed over. The wash clothes are hung above this roof to dry. While Mrs. Young was up collecting and arranging the clothes she slipped on the wet and shelving roof and fell on the large skylight. This very unsubstantial support gave way and the lady was precipitated to the floor beneath distant fully 18 feet. Her injuries are a broken right wrist terribly bruised arms and numerous bruises and [illegible] on the body. A physician was called who dressed the wounds and at last accounts she was resting quite easily.

HONORABLY EXONERATED.—Last evening a meeting of the board of police commissioners was held at the rooms for the purpose of investigating the charges preferred against Special Officer Joseph Day by Geo [illegible], an ex-convict, and the same fellow who is now lying in the county jail charged with burglary. The board made a thorough investigation of the charges which were not sustained in any respect. During the course of the investigation of the charges the following witnesses were examined: Joseph Day, [illegible] O'Shea, Ed. Mendenhall, F M Arthur, [illegible] Ball and J A Smith. The board [illegible] the charges and honorably exonerated Day from all the charges preferred.

[illegible] HIS FOOT.—A few days ago, Mr [illegible], while felling a large cedar tree [illegible] near Rainier, by some means or [illegible] axe slip. The blade struck his [illegible], it very severely. The blade [illegible] between his toes and split his foot [illegible] to the instep. The accident will disable him for some time.

[illegible] REPORT.—Mr George Revett, [illegible] the Dayton, Sheridan and Grand [illegible] railroad, has submitted his report for the month of November. From the report it [illegible] that the total earnings of the road [illegible] month have been $5323 87 total expenses $3205 65, net profit of the road, [illegible].

[illegible].—A man named Hoof residing [illegible] Mount Tabor, was garroted and robbed of [illegible] near the Catholic church on I street on [illegible] night last, while returning home. [illegible] struck over the head and rendered [illegible] insensible and while in that condition was robbed of his valuables.

BURGLARIZED.—The residence of Mr E J [illegible], on B street was entered at an early hour yesterday morning by burglars who [illegible] $50 worth of clothing which they [illegible] in the basement of the building. The [illegible] got away with the plunder without [illegible].

[illegible] MEETING.—There will be a special meeting of Oregon Lodge of Perfection, No 1 [illegible] Rite, at their lodge room Masonic [illegible] this Wednesday evening at 7 30 [illegible] for work. Members are requested to be in attendance.

[illegible] CIRCUIT COURT.—Judge Deady will announce an opinion in this court this morning in the case of Bear v Lase—the Marsh [illegible]—and the motions for injunction in [illegible] Griswold et al and Hill et al v [illegible] et al.

FROM ASTORIA.—The following dispatch was received from Astoria at 4 P M: The [illegible] The Frederick and Rival crossed out [illegible] wind stiff N E.

SHORT NOTES

Remember the Charity ball.

Have you seen the fowl show?

Telephone lines are multiplying.

[illegible] are coming more regularly.

County court will meet on the 17th.

The steamer Elder will be due here to night.

Large quantities of driftwood are passing.

Everybody is getting ready for the holidays.

[illegible] alarm for two days. What's the matter?

The steamer State of California sails hence this morning.

The Medical College has opened under very encouraging auspices.

There were snow flakes mixed with the rain which fell yesterday.

The strong current gives much trouble to the Stark street ferry. The strain on the cable is very heavy.

You must put your letters in the postoffice before 3.30 P M if you want them to catch the evening express mail.

Princess Sally Winnemucca has imitated the example of some of her pale face sisters in this country. She has commenced to lecture.

The Lurline towed the ship Eliza McNeil [illegible] tons, drawing 21 feet, from Astoria to the port in 19 hours and 15 minutes running time, against ebb tide and strong current in the Willamette.

PERSONAL.

Mr Jere Allis of the firm of Allis & Black leaves on the outgoing steamer. He will go to New York on business and will be absent about two months.

Mr H B Litt formerly with M Franklin & Co and P Selling will open on or about the 15th of the month a cloak and dressmaking establishment.

Joseph Teal Jr has received the appointment of assistant paymaster in the U S navy and has been ordered to report to the commander at Mare Island with ut delay for examination which we have no doubt he will pass with credit. Joey has many warm friends in Portland who will regret to part with him but who will rejoice in his good fortune in attaining to a position of such honor. He left on the steamer this morning for San Francisco and order[illegible]. Success attend him.

A GOOD BEGINNING

One year ago Messrs Allis & Black opened an agency in this city for the sale of flour and saw mill machinery from the well known manufactory of Edw P Allis & Co Milwaukee Wisconsin. Their early efforts were chiefly directed towards procuring orders for machinery and furnishings and when occasion offered for the erection of the same by Mr Black who is the workingman of the firm. But as their acquaintance extended and their goods became known they began to contract for and build mills entire so that during the season just closed they have furnished and erected more mill machinery in Oregon and Washington than has ever before been done by any single firm in any single year.

During the term mentioned they have contracted for and erected a two run custom mill for Linn & Owens of Eagle Creek Oregon a three run merchant and custom mill for Messrs [illegible] & Smith of The Dalles a four run merchant and custom mill for Messrs Ballard Isom & Co of Albany. They have also thoroughly reconstructed the Salem flouring mills adding two pair of stones and supplied a 250 horse power water wheel making this mill by far the finest mill in the state if not on the entire coast. Added to these there are numberless mills throughout this state and the adjoining territories where there can be seen articles of their machinery and specimens of their skill. Besides the flouring mills above noted they have sold a large number of saw mills which are equal to if not superior to any made.

Mr Allis goes east by the steamer State of California to arrange for bringing [illegible] at an early day a full assortment of mill machinery and furnishings [illegible] the milling community [illegible] require.

Their facilities are [illegible] to successfully compete [illegible] house [illegible] the coast [illegible] knowledge of their [illegible] be of great service [illegible] plate improvement [illegible]. Mill men will consult their interest by giving them a call.

WM SCHEFFLER'S ST HELENA

SANITARY VACUUM DISTILLED GRAPE BRANDY AND [illegible] WINES

Mr Scheffler is sole proprietor of the principle [illegible] known as the vacuum process [illegible] by which the fusel oils are left with the residue [illegible] rate with the brandy [illegible] all deleterious substances which do [illegible] must exist in all [illegible] distilled by the usual process of [illegible] heat. Gulf [illegible] Physicians have pronounced their preference of it to all other. Doctor Cox [illegible] revenue officer at Cincinnati Ohio says in his report that after ten years of close investigation he can safely say that very few if any pure wines or brandy are exported from the Old Continent to this. He has found none in his many analyses—that all are doctored before leaving France. The French Consul at Buenos Ayres writes home to his government that so much complaint is made there of the appearance of a large and other dangerous drugs in all their French wines that there is great danger of losing the trade of the Argentine States. Other proofs could be offered were it necessary to prove the superiority of the best class of California wines and brandy. Orders from responsible parties addressed to Wm Scheffler or Geo H Beach St Helena Napa county Cal will receive prompt attention.

THE DEATH-RATE OF

Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessoned every year without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant origin. At this season of the year especially a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it, and often find too late that a Fever or Lung trouble has set in. Thousands lose their lives in this way every winter while had Boschee's German Syrup been taken a cure would have resulted and a large bill from a doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the Throat and Lungs Boschee's German Syrup has proven itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in medicine. Every Druggist in this country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 950 000 bottles sold last year without a single failure known.

Forewarned Forearmed

Physicians and invalids use with confidence The Kaiser Celebrated German Elixir for Consumption and throat and lung diseases. It is rich in the medical properties of tar wild cherry etc. Is rendered perfectly harmless to the youngest child. This would have proved an Angel of Mercy in the household of those unhappy parents at Vallejo Dixon Beaver Utah and numerous other places whose children were slaughtered by quack medicine recommended by its owner to cure croup possessing no properties calculated to cure it, but instead a deadly drug which has slain its thousands. Be sure you get only German Elixir. The genuine bears the Prussian coat of arms and the fac simile signature of Dr. Kaiser. Samples at all drug stores. Large size [illegible] cents.

Nothing short of Unmistakable Benefits

Conferred upon tens of thousands of sufferers could originate and maintain the reputation which AYER'S SARSAPARILLA enjoys. It is a compound of the best vegetable alteratives with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron and is the most effectual of all remedies for scrofulous mercurial or blood disorders. Uniformly successful and certain in its remedial effects it produces rapid and complete cures of Scrofula Sores Boils, Humors Pimples Eruptions, Skin Diseases and all disorders arising from impurity of the blood. By its invigorating effects it always relieves and often cures Liver Complaint Female Weaknesses and Irregularities and is a potent renewer of vitality. For purifying the blood it has no equal. It tones up the system restores and preserves the health and imparts vigor and energy. For forty years it has been in extensive use and is to day the most available medicine for the suffering sick anywhere. For sale by all dealers. Hodge Davis & Co Portland wholesale agents.

The Daily Oregonian.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, DEC. 10, 1879

THE NORTHWEST.

Eastern Oregon.

Grant county has 937 scholars enrolled.

The population of Grant county is 2500 and rapidly increasing.

Fred. Page Tustin has retired from the Pendleton Independent.

Everybody is busy at Milton now, consequently times are good.

Mr. W. P. Crow of Milton, made 400 gallon of sorghum syrup this year.

The new school house at Milton is finished and is an ornament to the town now.

Umatilla county has a little boom of its own: ten marriages are reported for November.

A correspondent from Milton writing to THE OREGONIAN, says: Your valuable paper is the main and almost the only paper taken here. Hurrah for Blaine.

Weston had an election Monday last. It was the temperate against the intemperate, or Blue Ribbon against the world. It was a draw game as T. J. Lucy was elected mayor; A. Meacham, recorder; L. S. Wood, treasurer; D. P. Earps, marshal. A full council was elected, and everybody happy.

East Oregonian: R. Fay has returned with the murdered Indian's horses, which he went to get on the south side of the north fork of John Day's. He found the horses and the camp unmolested. It seems that some one crept up to the camp and fired through the wickiup with a gun loaded with buckshot. The Indian was killed, but other Indians in the tent were unharmed. Who it was or what it was for no one knows.

A correspondent of THE OREGONIAN from Tygh valley says: That dreadful scourge, diphtheria, which made its appearance in the neighborhood known as Womacs settlement, about the 1st of November, has since that time caused ten deaths. Mr. B. Savage lost four of his children, Mr. A. Savage lost five of his children, and has one sick at present who is getting better, and Mr. John Mayfield his little boy. Weather cloudy, warm, and sprinkling rain. Richard Brandler had his house burned; nothing saved.

Southern Oregon.

Says the Star: A number of the saw logs cut by Saubert & Noble last season, floated down the river on the recent rise and a majority of them were safely lodged in the boom. This demonstrates the practicability of running logs in the South Umpqua and adds a new and important industry to our city.

Eastern Washington.

The Walla Walla Union has enlarged.

Walla Walla is going to organize a sportsman's club.

A Pine Grove, W. T., correspondent says: Immigrants are arriving daily. Old bachelors are compelled to open their doors to families.

The farmers of Walla Walla valley are busy sowing grain, the recent rains having thawed the ground and put it into excellent condition for seeding.

The Walla Walla Statesman learns of a man who last year offered his farm for $22 per acre, and this year realized that amount from his wheat crop.

Mrs. Maria Ann Brewster, who was indicted for poisoning her husband, by putting strychnine in his whisky, was tried at the late meeting of the district court at Walla Walla. The case attracted considerable attention, but it rested entirely on circumstantial evidence. Mrs. Brewster was acquitted.

Against Uin, Any Way.

[From the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.]

He had on his head an old Greeley hat, which looked as though it had been run through two or three raffles and put up for a target at a country fair. A faded duster had whipped into fringe against his shins, and his shirt collar was cut low in the neck. He aimed at the porcelain cuspadore with a mouthful, but it missed the mark and left a stain on the Axminster on the floor. His tongue was rolled around, and then he broke loose.

"Whar's the telegraft office?"

He was directed to that institution on the corner of Third and Olive streets.

"I mean," he said, "the newspaper office whar the telegraft comes in."

"You mean the telegraph editor?"

"Yes; the feller that 'lecshun by telegraft."

He was referred to the desk of that functionary, and went to him.

"Be you the telegraft?" he asked.

He was answered as became a Christian man.

"Did you hear anything from 'Hio by the telegraft from the 'lecksbun down thar?"

He was told that Ohio had gone republican.

"You don't mean it?"

"Yes."

"Foster's got in?"

"Foster's in."

"Exactly."

"Well, I'm durned. Shake. You know I use to live in 'Hio; and it got too cussed loyal fir me thar, and I kim over to Missoury. Uin was holdin' the banner here then, and I was one of the men he sent out of the country. Yo know what I mean. He tuck all the cattle, and I had to walk out, and the walkin' was mighty rough pullin.' I tell yo, I've come in here from the Mary de Zeen to hear how Uin made it as a dimyecrat. If he's a goner, as yo say, Mister, and I'm willin' to believe yo, put me down for a boom. I don't know what a boom is, but I'm willin' to take one on this. Yo can put it thar, pard, and bet yer everlastin' boots that I'm for Grant as agin any dimecrazy that'll hitch onto sich as Uin. Show me the way out and I'll break somethin' up before daylight, by the eternal."

He went out with a whoop and a yell.

A Geographical Problem Solved.

[From the London Times.]

Within the present generation, and mainly during the present decade, nearly all the great geographical problems left us by our adventurous ancestors have been solved; the great lines of exploration have been taken up and worked with a success that leaves the future only the details to fill in. The northwest passage was completed more than a century ago; the Australian interior has been crossed and recrossed within the last few years. Several bright lines now break up the once mysterious darkness of the "Dark continent;" the sources of the Nile have been traced, and the course of the Congo all but laid down; the Russians have filled up many important blanks in Central Asia; there is now no mystery for geographers of the North Continent, and none of any magnitude on the south; even the great outlines of the ocean bed have been charted, and now at last, after a struggle begun more than 300 years since, the Northeast passage has been made with an ease that makes one wonder why it was not done long ago. A matter-of-fact Swedish professor has shown that with a suitable ship at a proper season this long sought for passage to the "Far Cathay" is a question of only a few weeks. Of Arctic feats there remains only a "dash at the Pole," and that the North Pole can be reached sooner or later there can be no doubts.

Talks Too Much.

[Baltimore Gazette, Dem.]

Congressman J. C. S. Blackburn is in Washington telling people that Tilden is dead and buried politically. A few weeks ago Mr. Blackburn visited Greystone, saw Mr. Tilden dance a breakdown and lift two tons on a lifting-machine, and the next heard of him he was out west shouting for Tilden like a Rocky mountain coyote. Mr. Blackburn feels authorized to say that Mr. Hendricks would not refuse the second place on a presidential ticket headed by Seymour, Potter, or any other eastern man who might be nominated by the democrats, except Tilden. The trouble with Mr. Blackburn is, that he talks too much. His jaw is hung like the "chaffer" in an old-fashioned windmill, and a reporter never has any trouble in setting it in motion. The pleasure which a woman experiences when she sweeps up a church aisle with the first new bonnet of the season is nothing compared with the joy which elevates Mr. Blackburn when he sees an announcement in a paper that the Hon. Josephus Cicero Socrates Blackburn has been interviewed again.

Joe Blackburn on Tilden.

[From the Lexington Transcript (Dem.)]

In reply to the question what he thought of Mr. Tilden's chances, Mr. Blackburn said: "I told Mr. Tilden that if Robinson carried New York, I would support him. Some time before the nomination of Robinson, after Cornell had been nominated by the republicans, John Kelly and Tammany issued a manifesto, in which they said they would support any other democrat but Robinson. They promised to support Clarkson N. Potter if he received the democratic nomination for governor. I blame both Kelly and Tilden; Kelly for issuing such manifesto, and Tilden for not making the compromise and securing New York for the democracy." Mr. B. said Bayard could carry New York, but he did not think he could carry Indiana unless Hendricks or Voorhees were on the ticket. He believed that Potter and Voorhees would make a strong ticket for the presidency.

Political Angels.

[Philadelphia Mercury, Dem.]

By one swing of the republican boom little Sammy and the rag-baby have been converted into political angels.

If "white man heap lie" it may also be remarked that the veracity of the Indians is not under all circumstances unimpeachable. The pretty story about the heroic copper-colored Susan, who rushed into the council of the braves and effected the release of the Meeker ladies, is addled in this short time. The story repeated by the captive ladies that Susan dashed in among the warriors with a gorgeous blanket about her shoulder, that she made a passionate and eloquent appeal for mercy, and finally "drawing a pistol from under her blanket, aimed it directly at the face of Antelope, and exclaimed, 'I am the sister of Ouray. He is the head chief of the Utes. His orders shall be obeyed. The white squaws shall be delivered up. I will meet any chief in single combat who disputes it.' Antelope skulked away and there was no further trouble." This is picturesque and impressive; the only trouble is that Gen. Adams, who was present at the council, comes forward, and with the relentless accuracy of a military report, casually remarks that Susan wasn't there.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Flour—Strong.

New York Freights.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—There has been considerable activity at the wharves of the clipper lines to-day, and all vessels have done quite a large business, and the outlook is more promising than for some time. Rates remain as before quoted, but there is no doubt that a round lot of freight can be placed at lower figures, owing to competition between the three lines. Tonnage in the absence of foreign demand, continues to accumulate, and owners are more anxious to accept business. In California lines steamer freights are active, and already the vessel for the 18th has more freight offered than she can carry.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Proposals for Ties and Timbers.

THE OREGON RAILWAY & NAVIGATION Company invites proposals until December 15, 1879, for Ties and Timbers as follows:

Eighty thousand (80,000) Ties, six (6) inches thick, six (6) inches face, and seven (7) feet long, of Tamarack or Red or Yellow Fir, to be delivered just below Texas Ferry on Snake river, Washington Territory, on or before August 1, 1880.

Four hundred thousand (400,000) Ties six (6) inches thick, six (6) inches face and seven (7) feet long, of Tamarack or Red or Yellow Fir, to be delivered between March and July 1880, at the following points:

At any suitable landing for steamboats or barges on Columbia river between Upper Cascades and The Dalles, or at any suitable landing for steamboats on Upper Columbia river between Celilo and Wallula, or at any point on the line of the Walla Walla & Columbia River Railroad or its Blue Mountain extension.

Also bridge timbers of various sizes, extreme length not exceeding 45 feet, deliverable at above points between March and July, 1880. Dimensions and qualities furnished on application to company's engineers.

Bids must state whether ties will be hewed or sawed, when delivery will be made, also number of fir ties and number of tamarack ties included in bids.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN

The Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast,

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

CHRONIC AND DIFFICULT DISEASES.

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease.

He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as SPERMATORRHEA, or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring, either directly or indirectly, from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organization broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored.

Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail.

Consultation free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for list.
